

The significant of the research

The object of the study is the different approaches of countries in solving problems directly related to the rights of the child

The tasks I set for ourselves in our research:

1. highlight the main challenges related to ensuring the rights of the child around the world
2. to determine the importance of this issue at the present time.

To solve these problems, we used the following methods:

- syntactic and semantic analysis
- observation
- description
- comparison
- illustrative method
- computer tracking procedure